

The project proposed to use Markov Random Fields to model heterogeneity in the evolution of a network and apply it to the evolution of metabolic pathways. This is the natural analogue using Hidden Markov Models rate heterogeneity in sequence evolution as done by Felsenstein and Churchill.